House Made of Dawn
By N. Scott Momaday
Monday, December 13, 2021
7:00-8:00 P.M.

Momaday's Pulitzer Prize-winning classic recently celebrated its 50th anniversary. A Native American, and World War II veteran, Abel returns home to his reservation and struggles to fit in. Caught between the rites and traditions of his people on the reservation, and the allure of the modern, industrial world of America, Abel struggles to find his place in either realm.

Voices from Native America: A Book Discussion Series-Fall 2021

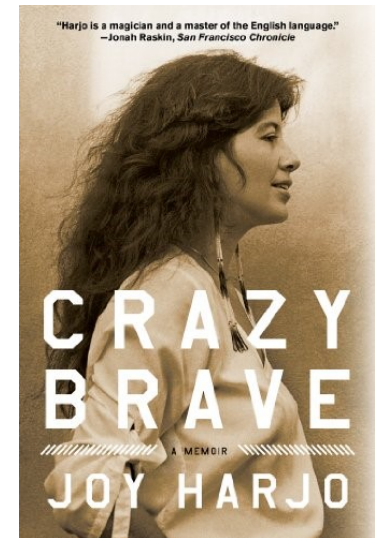

The Holy Road,
the sequel to Dances with Wolves
By Michael Blake
Monday, September 13, 2021
*7:00-8:00 P.M.-via Zoom

11 years have passed since Lt. John J. Dunbar became Dances with Wolves, and married Stands with a Fist. Now they live peacefully with their 3 children in Ten Bears's village. But the white man's holy road (the railroad) encroaches upon them. After rangers attack and slaughter half the village, the remaining Comanche warriors must fight against the white invaders—and attempt to rescue Stands with a Fist & her infant child who've been

The Last Report on the Miracles
at Little No Horse
By Louise Erdrich
Monday, October 11, 2021
7:00-8:00 P.M.

For more than fifty years, Father Damien Modeste has served the Ojibwe people on the remote reservation of Little No Horse. Now nearing his life's end, the priest dreads the discovery of his true identity. To further complicate matters, a colleague arrives to investigate the life and miracles of Sister Leopolda at the reservation, and to ascertain if she is deserving of sainthood.

Non-Fiction November Title
Crazy Brave: A Memoir
By Joy Harjo
Monday, November 8, 2021
7:00-8:00 P.M.

Native American poet and musician, details her journey in this transcendent memoir, grounded in tribal myth and ancestry. Born in Oklahoma, the end place of the Trail of Tears, Harjo grew up learning to dodge an abusive stepfather by finding shelter in her imagination, a deep spiritual life, and connection with the natural world. Narrating the complexities of betrayal and love, Crazy Brave is a haunting, visionary account about family and the breaking apart necessary in finding a voice.
